A Resolution for Closing Up Shop Today.

The Populists Elated With His Bill—

Senator Stewart and His Silver Bill—

Chinese Extension Measure—

California Land Sales.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) The Populists in Congress are elated over the prospect of a result of the fight for unconditional repeal, and claim it will mass the advocates of free silver in the South and West under their banner. They say they expect to capture the Presidency in 1896, and are already seriously discussing candidates. There is a strong sentiment in favor of Jerry Simpson, and Senator Peffer has a following, but Mr. Allen of Nebraska, who held the Senate for fifteen hours, seems to have charmed the members of his party in the House to such an extent that he is now enjoying the Presidential boom.

Mr. Watson of Georgia is spoken of for Vice-President.

Speaker Crisp and Gen. Catchings, of the Committee on Rules, had a conference this morning, and decided to report a resolution for final adjournment tomorrow at 3 p.m. The House was ready to adjourn today, but the Senate was desirous of disposing of the Chinese bill, if possible, and of the nominations sent in by the President.

All nominations which fall of confirmation when the Senate adjourns lapse, and must be sent to the Senate again. The nomination over which there is the most contention is that of Judge Hornblower of New York for a place on the Supreme bench. The general belief is that Senator Hill has effected a combination against him, and that he will be defeated.

Representative Cooper of Indiana has introduced a bill in the House authorizing the States to tax national bank notes and greenbacks with all other notes, circulating as money.

Senator Stewart came promptly to the front today, with a bill for the free coinage of silver, thus confirming his statement made in the Senate that the fight for silver is to be continued.

The bill prescribes the weight of silver coins, which are to be issued on the basis of the ratio of 16 to 1. Under the provisions of the bill the holders of silver can deposit it at the mint and receive in exchange silver dollars or treasury notes. The treasury notes are to be redeemable in silver coin only, which is a change from the usual form which requires their redemption in either silver or gold.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) SENATE.—The House joined resolution, reducing by 50 per cent, the duties on goods imported for exhibition at the World's Fair, passed. It releases from duty altogether articles acquired by the Columbian Museum for its own use.

The Senate authorized the Missouri River Power Company of Montana to construct a dam across the Missouri River, was placed on the calendar, and the House bill for a first-class steam revenue cutter for the great lakes, passed.

The House extended the time for the election of the Chinese exclusion act was taken up, and Senator Davis offered an amendment re-enacting the act of July 5, 1894, and continuing such act in force ten years longer. The act of 1892, he said, required a Chinese person when accused of being unlawfully in the country, to prove his innocence. This deprived him of the common law presumption of innocence until proven guilty. There was no other law of the kind in Christendom, he said, and it would disgrace Mexico.

Senator Stewart introduced his bill for free and unlimited coinage of silver, and it was referred to the Finance Committee.

Senator Gorman offered a resolution authorizing the employment "during recess" of certain employees, and it was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses.

The House concurrence in the resolution providing for an adjournment on November 3, at 3 o'clock p.m., was received. The resolution, on motion of Senator Gorman, was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The House bill increasing twenty-five the number of military officers that may be assigned to colleges was amended and passed.

When 2 o'clock arrived, the Chinese extension bill, as unfinished business, was laid before the Senate, and Senator Davis of Minnesota offered an amendment re-enacting the act of July 5, 1894, for a period of ten years. Senator Call argued in favor of the proposed amendments of the act of 1892.

Senator White of California then addressed the Senate on the Chinese bill. Senator Squire withdrew his amendment in order that the bill might become a law during this session. All other amendments offered yesterday and today were rejected, and the House bill passed without amendment.

The Senate bill granting to the State of California 5 per cent. of the proceeds of the cash sales of public lands in the State to aid in support of its public or common schools, and making an appropriation for the purpose, on the motion of Senator White of California, was taken up and passed. The Senate then went into executive session, and adjourned until tomorrow.

HOUSE.—Representative Catchings reported a resolution to examine a final adjournment at 3 o'clock tomorrow. The resolution was carried by a vote of 134 to 83.

Representative Wilson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution to permit the committee to adjourn during adjournment to consider the tariff, and to file with its reports any bills, and providing that, if filed, such bills and reports shall be mailed to each member.

Mr. Reed objected, explaining that the minority should have a fair opportunity to be heard, and to prepare a report on a bill of such importance as a tariff bill before its presentation.

Representative Kilgore reported favorably the Rawlins bill for the admission of Utah into the Union.

Resolutions catching on the Committee on Rules presented a special rule for the consideration of Mr. Wilson's resolution, but Mr. Reed again said the resolution was unsatisfactory in character and unreasonable in its demands, and it would be unjust to the minority to expect them to get together and, in a few days, prepare a report on the bill.

Representative Wilson said the resolution was designed to give the country the benefit of the earliest possible information concerning proposed legislation, and to keep the bill through all preliminary committee stages, so its consideration could begin immediately after the regular session convened. There was, he continued, no mystery about the preparation of the tariff bill. He himself had invited every Republican member of the committee to the possible consideration of Mr. Reed, who was absent, to come to the committee-room and see what was going on.

Mr. Reed responded briefly, and then a vote was taken. The Republicans refused to answer to their names, and there was no quorum, the yeas being 161 and the nays 111.

Mr. Catchings at once entered a motion to reconsider the vote by which the House agreed to adjourn on Friday.

Mr. Wilson moved a call of the House with the intention to get a quorum to pass the resolution. The call developed the presence of 214 members.

At 3:15 p.m., Executive Clerk Pruden announced the President's approval of the repeal bill. A resolution was adopted revoking the leaves of absence and instructing the sergeant-at-arms to call the absentees.

For three hours members waited patiently for the appearance of absentees. At 7:40 p.m. Mr. Wilson moved to disperse with further proceedings under the call. The vote resulted 129 to 156, and upon this announcement, Mr. Reed arose and offered a compromise. He offered the counter-proposition to amend the resolution so as to permit the chairman to file a tariff bill, with the understanding that the reports thereon should not be later than ten days. This proposition Mr. Wilson accepted, provided the word "tariff" before the bill be changed to "revenue."

The controversy being amicably settled Representative Sayers, from the Committee on Appropriations, presented a conference report on the urgency deficiency bill, and asked the House to insist on its disagreement to the Senate amendment to pay $21,000 to Senate employees for work done during the recess of the Fifty-third Congress. He explained that this claim should have come out of the contingent fund of the Senate, and that the last Congress refused to pay it. The House, by a vote of 120 to 4, decided not to recede from its position. Then the House adjourned.

Members of Congress Receive a Card Setting Forth Its Principles.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) Many Congressmen received today a card from the American Protective Association, whose methods in the elections in Michigan and elsewhere were so severely attacked in Congress a few days ago, setting forth the objects of the association.

The card declares it is non-sectarian and non-partisan, composed only of true Americans, regardless of nationality, for the purpose of purifying politics, attacking no man's religion as long as he does not make it an element in politics; that its aim is to preserve in government principles a declaration of independence against the encroachments of all foreign influences; that it regards all religious-political organizations as enemies of civil and religious liberty; that it is unable to give political or military power to any foreign power, political or ecclesiastical; that it favors one general, unsectarian, free-school system, and opposes the use of public lands for sectarian purposes.

It also favors the enactment of laws to protect American laborers from the influences of pauper and criminal labor sent here by European societies, but is not opposed to honest, educated immigrants, who are ready to become genuine American citizens.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Delegated Smith of Arizona has introduced a bill granting all desert lands except mineral to the States and Territories in which the lands are located, for educational purposes.

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Nov. 2.—The failure of the firm of Samuel Blaisdell, Jr., & Co., of Chicopee, Mass., the large wholesale dealers in cotton and wool stocks of all grades, was announced today. The liabilities are $275,000; assets not known.

Six Men Already Known to Have Been Killed.

Full Loss of Life by the Explosion Unknown.

Several Horses Perish—Property Damaged to the Extent of $10,000—The Disaster Caused by Overpressure—Dead and Injured.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) Six men were killed, and others, supposed to be dead, are under the ruins; a dozen people were injured, several horses are dead, and property was damaged to the extent of about $10,000, the sum total of the havoc wrought by the explosion of a boiler this afternoon in the stables of the Dry Dock and Battery-street Railway on East Twenty-fourth street. The following is a list of the dead as far as is known:

JOHN ARMSTRONG, an engineer.

THOMAS HASSON, a laborer.

SAMUEL MULLEN, a driver.

JOHN ROYAL, a lampman.

JOSEPH H. QUINN, a laborer.

CHARLES BRESLIN, a laborer.

The most seriously injured are: MICHAEL McDONALD, PATRICK McDONNELL, MRS. JACOB SOLDINGER, ANNIE GALLAGHER, JOHN PETERS, JOHN RUIEL, MYRTLE GALLAGHER, JOHN REINFANK.

Without warning, about 1 o'clock, a terrific crash was heard, and the air was filled with bricks, timbers, iron and debris of all descriptions. The escaping steam roared and hissed above the tumult. In a short time, however, it exhausted itself, and through the dust could be seen a picture of wreck and destruction.

The destruction of the buildings was complete and terrible. Sergt. Washington Mullen, of the Boiler Inspection Bureau, said the explosion was caused by over-pressure. Far into the night laborers were at work clearing the wreck. The bodies of a dozen persons were dragged out who were killed or injured.

FOREIGN MISSIONARIES.

The Apportionment of Money Among the Several Branches.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) Today was the last of the annual meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Women's Foreign Missionary Society, and the most important report of the meeting, that of the Finance Committee, was presented. The apportionment of money, to be raised among the eleven branches, is as follows:

New England, $30,000; New York, $50,000; Philadelphia, $30,000; Northwest (Chicago), $70,000; Minneapolis, $10,000; Des Moines, $30,000; Toledo, $9,000; Pacific, $50,000; Colorado River, $9,000; making a total of $310,000, distributed among foreign fields, as follows: India and Malaysia, $122,000; China, $55,000; Japan, $60,000; Bulgaria, $4,000; Italy, $10,000; Korea, $8,000; Mexico, $25,000; South America, $15,000; contingent, $9,000.

This is an increase of more than $50,000 over last year. Special efforts are being planned to celebrate the silver anniversary of the society.

KANSAS CONTROVERSY.

Gov. Leavelle Declares the Compromise Was Originally Proposed by Him.

WICHITA, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) After making a political speech here tonight, Gov. Leavelle read a statement in regard to the terms of settlement of the legislation controversy, made and signed in the night of February 6 last, which was referred to by Speaker Douglas in his speech in this city on Tuesday night.

Leavelle declared the terms of compromise finally agreed to were the same in substance as had been repeatedly proposed by him and as often rejected by the Douglas House.

SANDY HOOK, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.) The Brown segmental five-inch wire gun broke the world's record today, with thirty pounds of Leonard's smokeless powder and a sixty and a half pound shot. The missile attained a velocity of 3130 feet per second, with a breech pressure of 53,500 pounds per square inch.

It is complained that an immense number of persons who, in former times, would have worked with their hands, as their fathers did before them, are being educated to work with their heads. There is a general leveling-up of the social grades, if you look at it optimistically. The son of the artisan becomes a clerk, the son of the clerk aspires to teach school; the son of the school-teacher aspires to go to a leading college. The result is that there are fifty times too many clerks, hundreds making applications for positions

Sand the Tracks!
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2, 1893.—(To Editor of The Times.) I notice by the report of the accident to the electric car Portland (by which six lives were lost) the accident was really due to the fact that the rails were slippery and that there was no sand for the motorman to use to prevent the slipping of the wheels.

Is not this a warning to our own electric road?

Should it not, for the safety of its passengers and the public, be compelled to have its cars (especially those that run on the hills) proper sand boxes and sand oil cans with sand in them? Yours truly,

The inspector says that Collector Wise attaches great value to the signatures of well known business men, and that he is confident that after he renders his report, Collector will probably be more particular in this regard. Mr. Lynch is certainly a fact that Los Angeles merchants have subscribed their names to these documents without paying attention to the contents, and that there have been

Prices That no other House in the State Would or Could Afford to Make.

The plain and simple proposition is that the City of Paris Dry Goods Store has been FINANCIALLY WRECKED.

Sale will continue until all the stock is sold.

The "purchasing creditors" resorted to the only one way of realizing—that is to let the public have the goods at the Sheriff's prices—and in this way clean up the accounts. This sale will and must continue until all the goods are sold, and as has been repeatedly stated AT ANY PRICE. The manager has full authority and will continue to mark down, cut and slash away, not as against any firm or individual in this city, but simply to clear up the wreck and realize whatever cash that it will produce, this is the story in a nutshell.

Beginning today the SILK DEPARTMENT will be handled without gloves. Every lady in Los Angeles is kindly requested to look through the Silk Department of the City of Paris; it contains the latest novelties and finest makes of Silk Velvets and Plushes that can be found in any store on the Pacific Coast, excepting none. The stock is complete in all the new shades and fancy weaves, and will be sold at prices that will justify anybody in purchasing silk, velvet or plush for dresses or trimmings.

Will not and cannot resort to the threadbare device of making LEADERS of a few articles, as some business men occasionally do in order to attract a little trade. AFTER MANY YEARS

Antoine Begon's Plea for a Divorce.

He Charges Cruelty Against His Wife.

They Disagreed After Thirty-seven Years of Harmony.

Another Delay in the Scisich Will Contest Hearing—Petty Criminals Before Judge Smith—Routine of the Courts.

Antoine Begon, aged 71 years, and Marie Begon, aged 64 years, are parties to a suit for divorce now on trial in Judge McKinley's court behind closed doors.

The extreme age of the couple and other unusual attending circumstances make the case altogether a singular one, and such as is not often brought to the attention of the Superior judges.

The queerest part of all is that Antoine Begon is the plaintiff in the case, and he brings the suit on the grounds of cruelty. The Begons are quite well-to-do. They own a large amount of property in this city, and have always stood well in the estimation of their countrymen. Now, after thirty-seven years of married life, they have disagreed, and the divorce suit has ensued.

Begon, whose body is distorted and cramped with suffering and disease, told his almost pitiful story on the stand yesterday as the first witness in his own behalf. It appears that the complaint upon which the divorce is asked for is that the plaintiff has been inhumanly and cruelly treated by his wife in many different ways. According to his plea, Mrs. Begon of late refused to attend to his wants while he was ill. Becoming too sick to be able to care for himself, he was removed to a hospital, and there also his wife refused to procure for him the proper care that she was able to. In addition to all this, she accused him of threatening to poison her. The wife was the last straw, and as soon as he recovered sufficiently, divorce proceedings were instituted.

The plaintiff's side is being conducted by J. Marion Brooks and Marble & Phibbs, Esqs., being entered as attorneys for the defense.

ANOTHER DELAY.—The Scisich will case did not come up in Department Two yesterday morning as set, but went over for one more day to accommodate Attorney York, who was engaged in another department. In the meantime the counsel for the various contestants have been hard at work strengthening their respective causes, and propose to be ready to offer a stubborn resistance to the appropriation of the entire estate by those of the Scisich family. Even though the will offered by Bishop Mora, dated in April, 1888, is declared valid, in which the estate is bequeathed to the sister of the deceased, a strong effort will be made to show that the wife of Scisich survived her husband for a few moments; at least long enough to establish the right of the inheritance of one-half the property by reason of her not having been named in the will, and that such inheritance was passed to her son Paul, for whom the contestants are fighting.

Court Notes.—John Sullivan was allowed to withdraw his plea of not guilty of grand larceny yesterday in Department One, and pleaded guilty to petty larceny. The court then sentenced the man to one day's imprisonment in the County Jail.

On motion of the District Attorney an information was filed yesterday in Judge Smith's department charging Richard Price with the crime of bigamy. Informations were also filed on the same charge against Mathew Samuels and Lee Samuels. The defendant Mathew Samuels entered plea of guilty and was ordered to appear on Saturday for sentence.

In the appeal cases of People vs. Lee Douglas, Creighton and John P. McClure, Judge Smith ordered yesterday that hearing be set for November 15, at 10 o'clock.

A petition to set realty in the insolvency case of F. M. Smith, was granted yesterday by Judge Clark, and the final discharge of the administratrix of the estate of Addie Clement, deceased, also ordered.

Elizabeth S. Dolben failed to establish her grounds of cruelty in an action for divorce against John H. Dolben in Judge Van Dyke's court yesterday, and her application for a decree was therefore denied.

The cases of Chapman and Cripe vs. Rose, were concluded yesterday in Department Five, and ordered submitted on briefs to be filed in five and ten days. The court intimated that he was ready to decide the cases without indulging in this proceeding, but the attorneys were not prepared to argue, and time was allowed.

New Suits.—Preliminary papers in the following new suits were filed with the County Clerk yesterday:

P. Chavez vs. A. McComas; suit for possession.
Florence M. Dugan vs. Margaret R. Cottrell et al.; suit on foreclosure of mortgage for $175.
John Alexander vs. J. R. Burke et al.; suit on mechanic's lien for $50.

AN ERRING ELEPHANT.

He Lived an Honorable Life for Seventy-five Years and Then Became a Harbinger.

(London Telegraph.) An extraordinary occurrence was witnessed in London recently. Jim, an enormous elephant belonging to Sanger's circus, ran away and was chased by crowds for hours before he was secured. Jim is said to have reached the age of 75 without, so far as appears, a stain on his reputation. No doubt he had had his occasional outbreaks of passing misbehavior. To no one, be he man or elephant, is it given to play out his part in the drama of existence, especially when it runs to so considerable a length, without a single slip. However, it is pretty clear that Jim's aberrations from the path of virtue could never have been very serious, or the manager would not have taken him out controlled only by a hooked stick for a walk in the streets or a northern suburb, and accompanied by no more influential companions than two Indian lamas, each in charge of a boy.

The outing was, no doubt, one of an ordinary character, and must have seemed safe enough to those who had permitted it; but, as a matter of fact, it was disastrous. Whether it was the cutting of the stick or the hooking it which suggested to Jim the idea of flight it is impossible to say; but certain it is that when outside the manager's house, Finsbury Park, the animal became restive, broke away from his keeper, and dashed into the park, where, trumpeting loudly several times, by way of challenge to a musical competition, he charged the band stand. The host of his trumpet may have recalled to him the stirring lines of Scott and he perhaps exclaimed to himself, "One crowded hour of glorious life is worth an age without a name." As a matter of fact, since it was 2:30 p.m. when he broke loose and 7 when he was captured, he had more than four hours of glorious life—hours crowded with the destruction of inanimate objects, and the discomfort of human pursuers. Stout walls fell before the blows of his trunk; imprudent young men who interfered with his amusements were rebuked—in the stomach—with the same weapon; gardens were laid waste beneath his feet; eligible building lots were traversed by him and left behind in a condition less attractive to intending purchasers. He refreshed himself from the waters of the New River, and visited the grounds of the Upper Clapton Cricket Club. Gates were treated by him as smaller animals are accustomed to treat gateways; that is to say, he walked through them, varying the process on one occasion by lifting the obstacle, which happened to be of iron, bodily out of the ground and laying it to one side. A careful student of the course of his wanderings would have been in a position to draw a tolerably complete sketch map of the northern postal district. Taking the main road to Tottenham, he entered the grounds of the Drapers' almshouse, where he wrought great havoc, and it was not until he reached a field on the St. Loys estate, near Bruce Grove Station, that he allowed his keeper to chain his front legs and quietly walked home. He had been out, as we have said, between four and five hours, and had done damage computed at $3500.

Costly, however, as were these elephantine gambols, they would hardly have been remarkable if the age of the gamboler had been less mature, for it is understood that "youth must have its fling," and, if the fling of an elephant runs into money, that is merely as the Americans say, a consequence of "his avoirdupois." What gives so painful a distinction to the case, is the fact that the animal had outlived the impetuosity of early years and might fairly be expected to have sown his wild oats.

By what strange visitation could the worthy brute, who had, probably taken ponderous "constitutional" many a time before along this very road, have been suddenly impelled to bolt? How came it that the pastime of knocking down walls and harrying gardens now for the first time presented itself to him in a guise of irresistible attraction, and that in a moment he determined to throw reputation to the winds and have at least one good rampage before he died? We cannot say; these things are a mystery. That wonderful brain of the elephant—so small for his huge bulk, yet so wonderfully charged with a power approaching nearer to the reasoning faculty than any other form of instinct found among the brute creation—has its secrets which it is impossible to penetrate.

BANK NOTE MICROBES.

How and Where Paper Money Becomes Particularly Bad.

A Parisian scientific journal says: Two Havanaese bacteriologists, Drs. Acosta and Grande-Rossi, conceived the idea, surely an original one, of studying the microbes of bank notes. They have published the result of their researches on the notes of the Spanish Bank of Havana. They have proved, in the first place, that the weight of these notes increases in the course of their circulation, by reason of the addition of foreign matter. At the end of a certain time, the bacteriological analysis demonstrated a considerable increase in the number of microbes; in two cases this number rose to more than nineteen thousand. The physicians discovered specially the presence of a septic bacillus, which rapidly kills animals inoculated with it; this, to speak properly, is the specific microbe of the bank note, and Tallamont thinks that the name "bacillus septicus aureus," could be justly given to it. Messrs. Acosta and Grande-Rossi have, besides, recognized distinctly in the bank notes examined by them, eight pathogenic species, among which were the bacillus of tuberculosis, that of diphtheria, and the streptococcus of erysipelas. The two bacteriologists do not say what were the denominations of the notes they experimented with. It may be supposed, however, that they did not use notes of 1,000 or even 1,000. If the notes were of that size, it will be difficult to verify their experiments in all laboratories, the means of which in general do not permit such prodigality. What use can the Havanaese make of their bank notes that they become such receptacles of microbes? Messrs. Acosta and Grande-Rossi declare that the children of Havana are accustomed to carry bank notes in their mouths. It is easy to believe that the adults carry them elsewhere.

OUTLAWRY EAST AND WEST.

Vigorous Reply of a Missouri Editor to a Superior Yankee Person.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican in a wise editorial takes the train robberies of the West as an opportunity to say "outlawry in the country across the Missouri River does not abate much." It is always the joy of a certain class of people, says the Kansas City Star, to seem scholarly, superior and philosophical. Persons of this sort talk about geographical influences on civilization and spin theories about character and climate. They do not understand these theories, but they think they will startle common people much as the witch tales of the garrulous grandmothers scare the children. People who talk about the prevalence of outlawry in the West are of this ilk. Given a little less intelligence and they would operate a "divining rod" to locate gold; a little less, and they would hunt up "charms" in the dark of the moon to drive away the "roomptiz"; a little less, and they would be voodoo doctors, dispensing snake oil and brews made of black cats' eyes. There are very few remedies from the voodoo priest to the pigskin simoleon who gibbers about the outlawry of the West.

There is no more outlawry in the West than there is in the East. It wasn't so very long ago that Oliver Curtis Perry, a New York highwayman, robbed a train and stole an engine on which to make his escape. Just last week a gang of tramps, less than one hundred miles from New York, stole a train of Pullman cars and held it twenty-four hours, and the officers dared not approach to molest them. The Homestead affair happened in the East; the Borden murder and the Christy Warden murder both occurred in a portion of the East that is particularly effete. Mrs. Halliday of Newburg, who killed a mess of summer boarders for breakfast and butchered her husband for tea, is an Eastern product. The man who raked $105,000 out of a treasury vault was an Eastern man; and Carlyle Harris was of the East Eastern; he rolled his "r's," broadened his "a's" and wore a pointed beard. The list may be continued indefinitely and the whole West searched for a parallel to any of the horrors of the East. The "outlawry in the country across the Missouri River" sounds wise, ponderous and scholarly when used on the other side of the Alleghenies, but it will not bear a close inspection. Outlawry has no "pent-up Utica," Itasca, Elmira, Albany, Kings county or Springfield, Mass., to contract its powers. It is as broad in extent as man is depraved.

ARIZONA NEWS.

Surprising Strike at the New Coal Fields.

Tramps Still Coming Overland—A Russian Engineer on the Territory—Silver Men Denounce, but Congress Enacts.

Special Correspondence of The Times.

TUCSON, Nov. 1.—From the new Sonora coal field word has arrived that one of the first veins was of much greater extent than supposed. At the depth of twenty-two feet, the diamond drill-core showed a 7-foot vein. About the time that depth was attained, the men in charge were changed. The new man recorded the vein as seven feet. This was a year or more ago. A week ago the sinking of the shaft at the corresponding depth revealed their error. The vein was ten and one-half feet thick. The coal from the bed is beautiful, strongly resembling the Pennsylvania article. A flow of water has been struck such as precludes anything short of a steam pump for its removal. The work now awaits the machinery, which has been ordered. Colorado capital is doing the sinking.

WEST-BOUND TRAMPS. At Albuquerque, N. M., a day or two ago, a gang of eighty tramps were given bread and coffee by the city authorities and started out of town. They took twelve trains on the Atlantic and Pacific, and by now must be in California. An average of two hundred and fifty a week pass through Tucson over the Southern Pacific from California. Here the city gives them bread and water.

KANSAS REUNION. The Valley of the Salt has a large population from Kansas. A reunion of all from the Santa Fe State will be held near Tempe, Saturday. It will be an elaborate affair.

LIGHT IS ALL THAT IS WANTED. Lieut. Bryan, formerly stationed at Fort Huachuca, is now on duty at the Jefferson Barracks, Mo. He has contributed a paper to the Oasis, published at Arizona, in which he dwells upon the great possibilities in store for those who are to settle upon arid lands in Southern Arizona, and bring water onto them. He strongly urges the pumping of water in place of being mortgaged to an irrigating ditch company, and gives practical illustrations of the profits to be derived from this method. He speaks in glowing terms of the possibilities of the Sulphur Spring Valley. He closes his contribution with the following:

"I spent two of the pleasantest years of my life in Southern Arizona, and the study of her resources has been a matter of real pleasure. I am surprised at their extent, and astonished at the general ignorance concerning them. Light on her merits is all that Arizona needs."

IN UNEXPLORED LANDS. An expedition has returned from unexplored lands west of the Carrizo Mountains and south of the Navajo Mountains. It was made under a retired army officer, Maj. T. M. Norton. An escort of forty mounted cavalrymen and fifteen pack mules, mule teams and one ambulance, under the command of Capt. S. W. Sibley, left Fort Wingate on October 12, and the country was examined north and west for a distance of 125 miles. Much of interest was encountered.

SILVERITES ON CONGRESS. Our people are greatly worked up over the phases and changes of silver, and one or more meetings are held weekly or oftener to invent or propose some plan to help the cause of free coinage along. Thursday night there was a well-attended meeting held, and Col. John S. Crawford made a most stirring speech and appeal for action on the part of everybody. He was followed by a number of other local speakers, and every one present seemed imbued with one idea and purpose—that of the free coinage of silver. Notwithstanding, Congress revealed the Sherman law and the President signed the bill.

A FOREIGNER ON ARIZONA. David Golowne, the Russian engineer sent to this country to investigate the methods of irrigation, left before he had finished his report. He went to study the system there. He will afterward go to New York and thence to St. Petersburg. On his return with Maj. Evans from a visit along the Arizona canal system, day before yesterday, he said that he had learned more or less of irrigation in the Salt River Valley during his short stay than during the entire time he had spent among the canals of Southern California. He was also highly pleased with the valley, and said that his excellence would be made known to his countrymen.

A REMARKABLE AMPUTATION. Henry Blevins, while roping a wild cow on steep ground in the Sierra Ancha Mountains, got his thumb caught in a loop of the lariat, which cut it off as clean as though amputated by a surgeon's knife.

AGRICULTURAL. Gen. Wilson, extensively engaged in ranching, has sent for seed of "tag-asse," a new forage plant, described as of great value in an arid country. It is claimed to produce abundantly without irrigation, and that it makes fattening feed for stock. In regions of the Old World similar to Arizona heavy crops are cut and fed. The general has sent for seed to two United States consuls. Mesa hay to the extent of hundreds of tons has been sold in Tucson recently for $10 a ton. Three-fourths of the crop is profit.

Several substantial citizens of Tombstone are talking seriously of starting a hog ranch on a large scale in the vicinity of Turquoise. A proposition is under consideration by Eastern parties for irrigating Wallapai Valley from the Colorado. Notwithstanding the $10 duty on Mexican cattle, a great many steers from our neighboring country on the south will be brought over and shipped to the Eastern and California markets. At Globe apple trees are in bloom, as are strawberries, and berries are green and ripening. Over in New Mexico a good business is done in raising broom corn for a factory there. The regular output has lately been increased four-fold.

MINING MATTERS. The output of the United Verde Copper Company's mines at Jerome was greater last month than any single month since the mines were started. A Phoenix assayer reports that there has never been such activity shown in mining circles as now, if the number of assays and the quality of ores is a criterion. Gold samples predominate.

From the Detroit Copper Company comes a report that the low price of copper now prevailing made it necessary to strain the utmost limit of production in order to make any profit, and as a result the company is producing more copper than ever before.

The Tombstone Prospector says that when the big mines of the Tombstone district start up again they will be worked for the gold and not for silver. With today's blow at silver the industry may be considered practically dead in the Territory. Only a few high-grade properties will be worked, and those specifically. Denunciations of Congress and Cleveland are very bitter here over the repeal of the Sherman bill. Ten and twenty-stamp mills are being erected all through the Bradshaw Mountains in Yavapai county, and the best of it is, there is plenty of rich gold ore to run them.

A bill providing for the establishment of a United States assay office in Tucson, has been introduced in Congress.

BREVITIES. Flagstaff people are trying to secure the removal of the defunct Prescott & Arizona Central road, whose business was taken by the new North and South road, from their town to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

A telegram was received at the Governor's office yesterday from Sheriff J. J. Bell of Silver City, N. M., stating that he had been informed that two bodies had been recently found in a well near Fort Bowie. He desired further information concerning the report believing that it might reveal the whereabouts of a murderer wanted at Silver City. A telegram was sent to Sheriff White of Cochise county requesting him to act in the matter.

The compulsory school law is enforced in every county in Arizona except Cochise.

Co's A and D, Eleventh Infantry, of Fort Whipple, Capt. Macklin commanding, have exchanged with E and B companies, late of San Carlos. The cactus factory at Tempe received awards on its wares at the World's Fair.

The projected railroad from Deming to Guaymas, which was favored by J. W. Young, a son of Brigham Young, has been given a death blow by the announcement of the Mexican government that its deposit of $30,000 has been forfeited and its concession declared lapsid.

A dispatch of a week ago from San Bernardino, Cal., announces the marriage of Judge N. P. Earp, who is 80 years of age, to a thirty-year-old girl junior. Judge Earp is the father of the celebrated Earp boys who figured in numerous killings in Cochise county, during Tombstone's palmy days.

BRINGING UP HOGS.

A Lower California Grower Bringing Up a First Shipment. (San Diego-Sun, Nov. 1.) C. D. Graham, who is interested in the lower country, is at the Brewster from Gaudaloupe, Lower California. He is making an experimental test of the hog. The gentleman started a drove of three hundred stock porkers from his ranch some weeks ago by land. They are being driven slowly and are expected to arrive at National City today or tomorrow. They will be placed on the cars and shipped to the packing-house at Los Angeles. Mr. Graham says if the hogs net him a reasonable profit he will follow this shipment with a drove of not less than one thousand. The duty on the hogs will be $1.50 a head, but he expects if they arrive in good shape that he will be able to realize a paying price.

Fosmir Iron Works. Frank A. Gibson, trustee, has notified the creditors of the Fosmir Iron Works that he has so far been unable to secure any bids for the entire plant, and has suggested that further time be given, as efforts are being made, with some prospect of success, to find a purchaser. This action will probably be agreed to.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Weekly Bulletin of the Southern California Weather Service.

Following is the weather and crop bulletin of the Southern California Weather Service for the week ending October 30:
The temperature continued below the averages, except during the middle of the week, when it was slightly in excess. The highest reported was 95 degs. at South Riverside. Cloudy mornings were general with an occasional fog in the coast districts and a drizzle. The rains of the early part of the week did not cause the damage anticipated, as, owing to the threatening weather, precautions had been taken in most instances to protect raisins and other products from rain. The rain, however, was quite heavy in some districts, wetting the soil sufficiently to start plowing and seeding. Detailed reports follow:

PASADENA.

Death of James W. Scoville After a Long Illness.

Special Meeting of the Council—More Street Work—Visiting City Officials—Personal Notes of Interest—Brevities.

In the death of J. W. Scoville, which occurred between 10 and 11 o'clock Thursday morning, one of Pasadena's most prominent and beloved citizens passed away. He had been seriously ill most of the summer and his death was not unexpected. The end was painless and peaceful as he entered the 69th year of his age. He first came to Pasadena from Chicago nearly a decade of years ago, and four years later he decided to make his permanent residence here, largely on account of his wife's delicate health. Although not actively participating in public affairs, he always took a lively interest in contributing to the wealth and prosperity of the town, and on all proper occasions manifested a public spirited generosity that gave him a commanding influence among the people. He was one of the most benevolent and unselfish men in the community, but was very modest concerning his many generous deeds, and seemed anxious that they should escape public notice.

Before coming to Pasadena, Mr. Scoville had been a prominent citizen of Chicago, where he amassed a large fortune in various interests. At the time of his death he was president of the Prairie State National Bank of that city, and of the Chicago Screw Company, and vice-president of the Chicago Watch Company. He was also prominently associated with Oak Park, a residence suburb of Chicago, where his public benefactions were numerous and commendable. He was a director of the Pasadena Water Company and was a member of the board of trustees of Throop University.

Possessed of ample means, Mr. Scoville took special delight in spending money in the way that would do the most good to the community. He believed in charity, but in charity that was practical. His spare moments were largely occupied during the past few years in developing the city of Pasadena, and his chief source of satisfaction as the work progressed, was always that he was thus able to secure employment to a number of worthy men. He had also interested himself in the establishment of a public hospital here, and had lived, that philanthropic project would have been early carried out.

Mr. Scoville possessed all those personal attributes that go to make up the true man. His tenderness of heart and kindness were proverbial, and his memory will long be cherished by a large circle of warm personal friends, while all will unite in doing him honor. He has gone to rest with the good deeds of his life as a fitting reward. Mr. Scoville is survived by his widow and son, C. B. Scoville. ORANGE COUNTY.

Growth of the Celery Industry in the Peat Lands.

A Ready Market for All That Can Be Raised. Marital Infelicity Alred in Court—Adjourned Insane—Local Brevities.

But few people realize to what extent the celery industry in the peat lands of Orange county is growing. It has only been three years since it was first discovered that this popular table product would grow to perfection in this rich vegetable soil, but in that short time the industry has made wonderful progress. So great has been the yield, and so fine has been the quality of the vegetable that it has found a market in the large cities of the East, ranking above the choicest of celery grown in any other portion of the United States.

Since its introduction into the Eastern market, so great has been the demand for it that vegetable-growers here have, and are now being importuned to secure peat land for the coming year to plant more extensively to this product, the wholesale buyers agreeing to take the entire crop at a good, round profit to the growers.

It is estimated that the crop this year from the peat lands alone will amount to fully one hundred and fifty carloads. As each car will contain 1000 dozen or more bunches of the vegetable, the total output promises to be 150,000 dozen bunches.

At 20 cents per dozen bunches, the price now being paid to the growers, the crop represents an income to the Chinamen of $30,000, which is expended for Chinese labor and retained by the Chinese gardeners. In all probability this amount will be doubled, and maybe quadrupled, by another year. If there is this amount of money to be made by the Chinamen, with his "primitive methods," there is surely as much or more in it for intelligent white labor and the improved machinery of today. The Times correspondent has been informed from a reliable source that more advantageously used money has been obtained from this industry than from any other, and the fact that the wholesale buyers do offer 5 cents more per dozen for that which has been raised by white men, should prove a stimulus to the industry and should encourage the white American growers to take hold of it, and, by so doing, get the benefit of the industry to the county that, by another year, promises to be not far from $100,000.

It is suggested by the police that clothing dealers examine their stock and see if any garments are missing, and if so that they call at the police station and examine the goods. The trousers are all large-sized ones.

Forty members of the Los Angeles Oratorio Society have generously volunteered their services for next Sunday evening at Simpson tabernacle, under the leadership of Prof. F. A. Bacon. Judge Wade, who has been seriously ill for the past few days, was reported as being somewhat better late last night, at least his mind was clearer and he seemed conscious of what transpired about him.

The physicians, however, announce with reluctance that there is but little hope of his ultimate recovery, and it is but a matter of time when the judge will succumb to the disease that has such a hold on him.

FATAL ELEVATOR ACCIDENT.
Two Lapsed Life Insurance Policies Paid in Full.

George L. Waters, who was accidentally killed in the elevator of the Thurlow building on October 7, held two policies for $2000 on his life in the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of New Jersey, both of which policies had lapsed by non-payment of premiums in November last. Nevertheless, both policies will be paid in full—$2000—to his daughter, under the admirable non-forfeiture and extension system of this grand old New Jersey company. The payment of these lapsed policies in full without any sort of action by the assured, not as an act of grace and favor, but as a matter of contract and legal obligation, furnishes the very best illustration of the practical operation and value of the non-forfeiture and extension system of this company. For full particulars see specimen policy and strong points published in the Los Angeles directory, pages from 244 to 245, also Walter H. Fisher, special agent, No. 127 West Second street.

FRANK A. WRIGHT.

Resolutions Concerning Him Which Explain Themselves.

L. M. Anderson writes The Times, enclosing the following resolutions concerning Frank A. Wright, which are self-explanatory:

"At a meeting of the church this day the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, Frank A. Wright has been the regular minister of the Central Christian Church in this city for the year past; and, whereas, the said F. A. Wright was forced to resign as minister of said church on account of his unchristianlike conduct toward certain members of this and other congregations in Southern California; and, whereas, he has walked in an unchristianlike manner by conducting a meeting within a short distance of the Central Church, with no other apparent object in view than to weaken or break down the said church; now, therefore, be it resolved, that the Central Christian Church withdraw their fellowship from the said Frank A. Wright, and that the clerk be instructed to notify the several congregations in Southern California to that effect."
